EMPIRE THEATER WILL
RE-OPEN THIS EVENING

The reopening of the Empire Theater takes place tonight under the new and direct management of J. T.
Sentry, at which time he will introduce several vaudeville people who arrived yesterday from San Francisco on the Manchuria.
A dress and orchestra rehearsal was held last night on the new stage, which has been greatly enlarged and even there, with only a few people present the new talent demonstrated their right to the title of being among the best entertainers who have been in Honolulu this season.
The Gladstone Sisters, who are classified as juveniles, present a very attractive turn. They are called harmony singers, and their voices blend beautifully, producing melody rich and charming. Following their first song, they give a fancy dance, stepping the measures off gracefully to the splendid accompaniment of the orchestra of eight pieces, which is directed by Harry Weil. The Sisters feature their own original acrobatic dance, displaying a wonderful control of their muscles, doing many amazing feats, but always graceful.

Edna Randall, a high class singer, is an operatic mezzo-soprano, whose voice is exceedingly sweet and charming in its quality. Her selections are of a high order and her re-will be the escape from "The Spanish Torture Iron," to be made here and riveted on his ankles and wrists, but from which he will emerge unscathed.
He is also an impersonator of Barney Bernard and presents several unusually Yiddish characters. He was here a few years ago with Kolb and Dill.
The Bartlett Brothers will appear in a musical turn, in which they use the mandolin and guitar. Their act is pleasing and the music exceptionally good. There is a patriotic ensemble.
The Empire is almost a new theater, having been thoroughly remodeled, and is one of the most comfortable houses in the city, having opera chairs.

THE SAVOY THEATER

The audience which filled the Savoy theater last night was well entertained, the program being made up of features which were just right and applause-givers.
The Wilson Sisters feature a new dance, the steps of which were prettily worked out and caught the favor of the patrons. Their singing was good, as usual. George Stanley had an unusually good ballad, which was accompanied by a series of pictures thrown on the screen. Dot Raymond's juvenile singing was rendered with her usual odd style.
Magrath's darkey makeup was funny and the new farce comedy sketch
"The New Judge," gave him another opportunity to demonstrate his ability as a fun-maker. The present program again tonight and tomorrow evening, and on Thursday another change of bill to run the remainder of the week.

There are two excellent films being shown this week.

CIRCUS ACTS
ARE CLEVER

Unquestionably the circus people held their best program for their third week in Honolulu. The bill they presented last night for the first time has all the cleverness, snap and go of a big circus on the mainland.
Even the clowns have decidedly improved the quality of their part of the show if variety counts as an entertaining feature. They had only one turn that they had ever presented before and at least a half dozen that were new. A pantomime battle between kids of various ages armed with inflated bladders starts off the fun and Toto and Tote keep it up until Miss Charini has a trapeze act as a special part of the program and it draws the attention it draws. The
